Subject to availability on a first come first serve basis

.... Follow in the footsteps of Shackleton and visit some of the most spectacular and pristine wilderness in the world. Combine this with a fascinating history and abundant wildlife and you have the Ultimate Antarctic Expedition ...

The Antarctic, land of extremes, is a destination that captivates all those who dream of taking a voyage to one of the most remote and fascinating natural reserves in the world. With its dramatic beauty, amazing colours reflected on ice, and prolific wildlife, it promises to be unforgettable for travellers in search of a unique experience. This White Continent has no history of man hunting animals and therefore the wildlife seems unafraid of visitors giving the opportunity to wander amidst thousands of penguins and sea lions making this a paradise for photographers and animal lovers alike.
